

This project aims to help communities fight racism and discrimination, promote intercultural awareness and foster their full participation in Canadian society.

Contact us

Ioanna Villa

Project Coordinator

ioannavillafccetsrie@gmail.com

Broulaye Diarrassouba

Project Agent

agentprojet.fccestrie@gmail.com

Un levier de développement pour l'Estrie

Fédération
des Communautés
Culturelles de l'Estrie

172,Élaine C. Poirier, bureau 114
Sherbrooke, QC, J1H 2C5
(819) 823 0841
www.fccestrie.ca
www.facebook.com/FCCESTRIE

Anti-racism immigrant leaders

Financé par le gouvernement du Canada

Canada

Objective

This project aims to raise awareness, provide training to racialized immigrants on their legal rights, their rights as employees, complaint mechanisms and to evaluate the development of support systems so that they can be better equipped to fight racism and discrimination.

The FCCE will train anti-racism immigrant leaders who will transfer the knowledge they have gained to members of their communities so that they can be educated and informed about their legal rights, their rights as employees, complaint mechanisms and available resources. They will also be able to assume an advocacy role in their communities to support victims of racism and discrimination in seeking justice.

The lack of knowledge of the instruments that allow immigrants to fight against racism is a fundamental issue in order to eradicate this phenomenon in the Eastern Townships.

The lack of knowledge of the instruments that allow immigrants to fight against racism is a fundamental issue in order to eradicate this phenomenon in the Eastern Townships.

FCCE's Mission

The FCCE's mission is to bring together and represent associations from cultural communities in order to defend their rights and interests.

The FCCE also acts as an interface between socio-economic, cultural and political actors and mono-ethnic associations so that they can ensure the real integration of their members in the region.

